Remember this and bear in mind
a faithful friend is hard to find
So when you find one just and true
Change not the old one for the new

(REFRESHMENT-ROOM ATTENDANT) TRAVELER: SIR,
(The, Other) D'you think, this is how I go, out for a stroll

NOURISHMENT
Stout and Oysters.

The Sorrows of Cycling.

By one who knows.

Little pinhole punctures,
Little grains of grit,
Make the wretched cyclist,
Have a time of it.

And the little gear-case
Patent though it be,
Makes an irksome rattle
Unremittingly.

Little nuts + washers,
Little bearings too,
Every cyclist knows it
Easily unscrew.

And although he puts them
Safely at his side
When he is not looking
Out of sight they glide.

How his troubles thicken
As he tries in vain
To replace the pieces,
As they were, again.

Till his back is breaking
Till his spirits drop,
Till he wheels his cycle
Piecemeal, to the shop.

John Harris

If scribbling in albums remembrance secures,

With the greatest of pleasure I'll scribble in yours,

For something to write I am thinking in vain

So I'll leave my best wishes and just sign my name.

There are many things we ought to do

We ought to smile and laugh

We ought to eat we ought to drink

But here we autograph.

The sweetest thing upon this earth is

Loves young Dream

And after that the sweetest thing is

Badbury's chocolate cream.

The thing that goes the farthest towards making life worth while that costs the least and does the most
Is - just a pleasant smile.

Be good sweet maid and let who will be clever.
Do noble deeds not dream them all day long;
And so make Life, Death, and that vast Forever,
One grand sweet song.

You asked me to write in your album,
But I hardly know where to begin,
For there's nothing original in me,
Unless it's original Sin.

A "fellow-feeling" makes us wondrous kind;
Methinks the Poet would have changed his mind.
If "suddenly" he chanced to find
A fellow-feeling in his coat behind.

W. B. P.

The hand that now the cradle rocks,
Will not forsake its mission
I will wash the clothes and mend the socks,
Without M.P.'s permission
I will chasten us on mischief bent,
And soothe us when we are ill
Without the vote or with it
Woman will be woman still.
